IN THE TENTR INNING. The Brechigas Keep Up These Great Work by Defeating the Bostons and Pass the Philadelphine-Cleveland Reats

Pittsburgh by a Run and Creemantt

Adds to Louisville's Disgrace - Notes, The New Yorks showed a decided improvement in their playing yesterday, and gave the the champion Baltimores such a hard fight that it was not until the tenth inning that the League champions scored the winning run. The Brooklyns continued their marvellously good play by defeating the Bostons at Eastern Park, and as the Philadelphias were beaton by the Washingtons, Fouts's men took seventh place in the race. The Clevelands won a close game from the Pittsburghe and again tled the latter fo third position. Cincinnati treated Louisville to the usual interment and advanced to within ten points of the Chicagos. The results: ilmore, 5; New York, 4.

Brooklyn, 6; Boston, 3. Cincinnati, 15; Louisville, 6. Cieveland, 5; Pittsburgh, 4. Washington, 11; Philadelphia, 10.

For the first time since the never-to-be-forgotten Temple Cup games last fall, the Baltimores, champions of the League made their bow at the Polo grounds yesterday. With the exception of Reitz, who is suffering from an injury, and big Dan Brouthers, who has retired, th team was practically the same as that which tasted defeat in the early days of October and then went back to Baltimore to grieve over the

But, unlike the New Yorks, the champions are in pretty fair shape just now, and their playing has been so good that they have acquired a pretty strong hold upon first place That the Baltimores can play baseball up to date there is no use denying, for any one with half an eye can see that they have a magificent team, and barring accidents will come pretty close to taking another whack at the big silver may the fall.

half an eye can see that they have a magificent team, and barring accidents will come pretty close to taking another whack at the big silver cup this fail.

But the Orioles didn't have such a snap with the crippled New Yorks yesterday as they expected they would. The local lights played better than for ten days past, and showed that they were still capable of doing good work. They even showed backbone when it looked like almost certain defeat, and by desperate fighting succeeded in carrying the final verdict over into the tenth inning. Then the "chambs' hit the ball and won, Amos Rusie was put in to pitch, but he did not show his usual skill. He gave three bases on balls, two of which were turned into runs, and was hit when a single counted most. He received fine support, and consequently could not complain. George Davis returned to the team after two weeks' absence and played third base. His arm, though still a bit sore, did not hinder him from covering the bag in superb style. His presence, too, seemed to inspire the other members of the team, especially Shorry Fuller, who played the best fielding game of the season. This may seem to be putting it a little strongly, but Fuller cannot be praised too much for his brilliant work in the face of much discouragement. If Manager Doyle would place Fuller at the top of the batting order it would work wonders in the little man's stick work. The tail end of the list is no place for him. The resumption of the mask and mitt by Charley Farrell also worked well, for the big catcher steadied the team and threw to bases beautifully.

Manager Doyle will probably come in for considerable criticism for his judgment in the tenthinning. With men on second and third, two out, Bill Clark up, and a single needed to win the game, Doyle took Clark's place at the bot, the was the object of considerable adverse comment. As Doyle had not been in the game for three weeks it was thought by many that to replace to win by batting himself and did the best he could.

to win by batting himself and did the best he could.

The Baltimores played fast ball. Their infield work was well nigh faultless, Modraw and Jennings making some wonderful stops and throws. At the bat they used their heads, and by hitting and running at the same time, scored runs where other teams would have had men left on bases. Joe Kelley led the batting with three fine singles, and had the extreme pleasure of acoring the winning run.

The New Yorks went to the plate first, and Murphy got as far as second on errors by Gleaseon and Robinson. Then with two out the Haltimores got one run that shouldn't have been scored. Jennings made a measy scratch and stole second, aided by Stafford's drop of Farrell's fine throw. Joe Kelley pushed a safe one to centre, and Van Haltren returned the ball to the plats, but the runner was safe.

After the New Yorks had been easily retired in the third, the champions scored another run. There were two out when Rusie sent Jennings to first on balls. Hugh quickly stole second, wheace he skipped to the plate on Joe Kelley's

In the third, the champions scored another run. There were two out when Rusis sent Jennings to first on balls. Hugh quickly stole second, whence he skipped to the plate on Joe Kelley's second single. The New Yorks broke the ice in the fourth, when Van Haltren drove a beautiful three-bagger to right, and scored on Davis's hot grounder that McGraw stopped with one hand. But the Baltimores, in their haif, secured another run on Kid Glesson's hit and steal and a single by Hemming, after two men were out.

Farrell opened the fifth with a hard single to left, but he was doubled by Rusie, and Fuller, who also made a single, was nailed at second. Then the "Bally boys" topped off their score with still another run, scored by the only Joe Kelley, who took his base on balls, went to second, as Brodie was hit by a pitched ball, and ran home on Clarke's base hit.

For the next three innings both pitchers worked like machines, so that there were no more runs and only a couple of hits. The accrestion 4 to 1 when the New Yorks went to the bast for the first half of the ninth, and the crowd had begun to file out. Nobody believed that the home team could touch up Henming's swift curves for enough runs to tie the score, but they did, just the same, by a pretty streak of batting. Van Haltren started with a single to centre, and ran to third on a base hit by Davis, Clark forced Davis, and Van waltzed home, while Jim Stafford hammered a clean one to right and advanced Clark to third, taking second himself on the throw-in. It all depended on Chariey Farrell, and he was equal to the emergency. He amashed a beauty to left centre for a base and both runners came in That tied the score and the crowd went crazy. Husle kept up the fun with a single to right buf Flarence.

Migraps started the tenth with a single and aboutes play, It was like old times to see such a brace, and when the champions were estiled in the last half of the inning there was renewed happiness.

the last half of the inning there was renewed happlices.

Aurphy started the tenth with a single and waited on first while Kelley caught Tiernan's fig. Van's base on balls advanced Murphy to second and Davis's force of Van put the Vale man on third. George stole second and then Doyle replaced Clark at the bat. But Jack was a bit anzious, and sent up a fly that Robinson collared, two men being left. The Baltimores in their half promptly proceeded to make the winning run. With one out the irrepressible Joe Kelley singled and ran to third on Brodie's two-bagger. Gleason buuted the ball to Wilson, who had succeeded Clark on first base, and while Parke was trying to pick it up Kelley dashed across the plate. The score:

BROOKLYN, 6; BOSTON, 3.

The Bostons made their first appearance of the season yesterday in Brooklyn, and 2,700 persons, including several hundred ladies, were on hand to great the exchampions. Gumbert had speed to sell, and when he happened to pitch a slow gurve Capt. Nash's men feil over themselves in their efforts to reach the ball. Nash and Gangal tried to duck incurres, but the ball on each occasion hit the bat and rolled on fair sround and the mos were promptly retired at first. In all the Boancaters secured six hits, of which two were scratches. Gumbert pulled out of a tight hole in the fourth inning. There were three mess on the bases, two out, and Long as the bat. The first three bails failed to go near the plate, and it jooked as if a run would be forced in. But the rext three bails taked the late slapers. They seemed to dishearten the flutu slapers. They seemed to dishearten the litu slapers. They seemed to than it for granted that he game was lost, although the Brooklyns had only a leaf of three runs and five innings remained to be played. Not another hit was made by the Hub players until the last inning, when hannon doubled and cahes if a sun for the late inning. WHAT PRESIDENT FREEDMAN SAYS. He Will Put Up Money to Get the Cream

President Freedman had a long conference with Manager Doyle yesterday upon the latter's arrival home from his trip up in New England. Doyle, as THE SINS tated yesterday, went to Springfield to see Short Stop Shannon play, and in behalf of the New York Club told the Springfield Club officials to name their own terms for the player, but they wouldn't sell him at any price, as his release would severely weak-en their team. Manager Doyle also looked at several other promising men, and in one instance he received a promise from a club of the release of a player at the President Freedman, in conversation with a SUN re porter yesterday, said that he had done everything In his power to strengthen the team in its present un fortunate condition, but that no human being could have accomplished more. He said:

"Just to show the public that I am here to provide a winning team, I will say that I stand ready to-day to put up the money for any star player, whether a catcher, pitcher, infielder, or outfielder. I propose to put up money for talent, and if I can't get the talent now it is because the clubs that have the men I want won't sell. I have offered in good faith $10,000 for Burkett and McKean, $6,000 for fireltenstein, $6,000 for Ely of St. Louis, $7,000 for Turner or Delehanty, and $2,500 for the pick of two men in the Louisville team. I also told Anson to name his own terms for Short Stop lighten. In each one of these cases I have been unsole to make a deal, because the clubs can t afford to let the men go while the present season is on. But I want to say right here that I will not spare expense to land the best players in the country when the time comes. put up the money for any star player, whether i comics.

Meanwhile, I have every confidence in Manager Doyle. He is young, ambitious, conscientious, and, best of all, is in the baseball business to stay. Doyle will receive a through trial, and he will asse have absolute control of the team.

UPSETS AND SURPRISES.

ONLY ONE PAYORITE FIRST AT SHEEPSHEAD BAY.

Pascination Wine Easily from Schantley Well Backed-Hurlingham, in an Unexpected Burst of Speed, Defeats Berfargilla and Declare at Three-quarters -Bathampton at Good Odde Wins in a Gallop from Emma C, and Helen Nichola, There was something of a bull vesterday in the fine run of sport which has marked nearly every day of the Sheepshead Bay meeting thus far, the programme for the extra day's racing being for the most part made up of minor events which failed to bring out high-class horses. Although the card lacked stake attractions such as are necessary to bring out big crowds, the attendance was surprisingly good for an off day just before the Fourth, upward of 3,000 spectators witnessing the sport. It was a day of upsets and surprises from first to last, only one favorite out of the six that went to the post finishing in front. Sebastian, in the opening dash at five furlongs for maiden tworear-olds, was the first good thing to go wrong, the Lorillard gelding, who started at even money, never showing in front after the fall of the flag. Doggett, on Fascination, went out and made the running, winning all the way. Sebastian got off well and was the contending horse from end to end, but, in spite of Griffin's bard ride on the favorite, he failed to head the 7 to 1 outsider, who won by a short neck under a drive.

Hurlingham, the Blemton Stable's four-yearold who ran in the lead for five forlongs on the turf in the sixth race on Tuesday and then died away, surprised everybody yesterday by going out in front as before at the fall of the flag in the second race at six furlongs on the main track, and this time lasting it out to the end at hot pace, winning cleverly by two lengths with such good ones as Derfargilla and Declare behind him. The time, 1:14 1-5, showed that the colt and the track were both fast. Cyclops's 1:14 with 112 pounds up is the record for the track at the distance. Hurlingham carried 113 pounds yesterday, and he was not all out at the end. The odds against him were as good as 5

There were but three starters in the third race for maiden three-year-olds at a mile and a quarter, and of these Tom Moore, the turbulent son of The Bard, who is about the worst actor in the country at the post, was reckoned out of the hunt before the start, Lonsdaie carrying the public money at 4 to 5 on and even, while Primrose, from Marcus Daly's stable, was backed lown from 8 to 5 to 6 to 5. After a lot of plunging and buck jumping at the post on the part of Tom Moore, a good start was had, the favorite

Tom Moore, a good start was had, the favorite going fat once to the front and looking to have the race in hand until midway down the homestretch. There Taral sent Primrose quickly into the lead from two lengths back, and the race was over, the son of St. Blaise winning as he liked by more than a length.

Hathampton, who was touted and tipped to beat Ramapo and all the cracks less than a week ago, but who ran disappointingly, and yet well, when pitted against handicap horses on Monday, was singularly enough wholly ignored in the fourth race yesterday, odds of 10 to 1 having been laid against him, with only two others, Helen Nicholas and Emma C in the race at a mile. With a stable boy up the imported colt made his run at the leader, Helen Nicholas, at the head of the stretch, and to the dismay of the talent, whose money was on Emma C and McCafferty's mare, Bathampton closed and then came away, winning in a gallop by an open length, in 1:421-5.

Mac Briggs and Premier ran the length of the Futurity course almost heads apart in advance

Mac Briggs and Premier ran the length of the futurity course almost heads apart in advance of the field in the fifth race, a selling affair for two-year-olds, and in a rasping finish McCafferty's colt landed the race by a head, the first favorite of the day to pull through.

Another upset took place in the sixth race, at a mile and a sixteenth on the grass, when integrity stole through on the rail haif a furlong from the finish, and nipped the contending pair.

Describers and Salonica right on the rost heads. Deerslayer and Salonica, right on the post, Deerslayer started favorite at 5 to 2. The odds peershayer started havorte at 5 to 2. The odds against Integrity were 8 to 1.

Penn Smith, manager of the Chesterbrook Farm, owned by A. J. Cassatt of Philadelphia, said yesterday that Mr. Cassatt had decided not to sell his thoroughbred yearlings this season, but will have them broken and trained instead. This bit of news is taken as an indication that Mr. Cassatt contemplates an early return to the tarf.

To-day's fine programme should bring out an old-time Fourth of July crowd for the wind-up of the Coney Island Jockey Club's spring meeting. The Realization, worth about $32,000 to the winner, is the fourth race on the card, and it promises to be not only the most valuable, but the best race of the year in the three-year-old division. Keenan, the Gideon & Daly candidate, has not yet been beaten this season, and he will probably go to the post a favorite, but he has 122 pounds to carry over a distance considerable greater than he has run thus far, and some keen turfuen expect to see his measure taken to-day when he concedes seven pounds to W. S. Hobart's sterling colt Bright Phoebus, and ten pounds to Mr. Lorillard's Holabra, who ran a strong third to Recunn at almost even weights on June 20, the distance being a mile.

Handspring and Applegate, two of the best two-year-olds in training, will come together at even weights is the Bouble Event over the Futurity course. This should be another ratting contest. Applegate having given seven pounds to the Dwyer colt and brought him to a downright drive at the finish of a fine race over the same course on a heavy track last Saturday. Foliowing are the entries for to-day.

CHINKARA'S PLANTATION STAKES. M . Croker's Colt Montank Runs Unplaced

LONDON, July 3.-The race for the Plantation Stakes, for two-year-olds, colts to carry 124 pounds and fillies 121 pounds, penalties and allowances, was run today over the five-furlong course at Newmarket. Mr. J. Porter's colt Chinkars, 116 pounds (Bradford), won; Mr. Douglas Baird's b. c. Donegal, 119 (Cannon), was second, and Lord Radner's b. f. Longford Lady, 121 (Calder), third. Mr. Richard Croker's colt Montauk, 119 (Simms), and the following also started and ran (Simms), and the following also started and ran unplaced: Mr. T. L. Cambie's Cobryas (Price). Mr. R. H. Combe's Max (Rickaby), Mr. W. Lawson's Address (T. Loates). Capt. Macheli's Witness (Chaloner), Mr. Mostyn's Codgel (Faulkner), carrying 119 pounds each: Mr. W. Baird's Belvideria (Brown), Mr. T. Jenning's Bathsheba (Toon), and the Duke of Portland's Santa (S. Loates), each carrying 116 pounds.

The post betting was 5 to 1 against Chinkara, 11 to 2 against Donegal. S to 1 against Longford Lady, 6 to 1 against Montauk, 8 to 1 against the others. Longford Lady took the lend when the flag fell and drew clear from Cudgel, Max, and Montauk, with Chinkara and Witness close up. These positions were maintained to the foot of the hill, where Chinkara ran to the front, and, coming on, won by three lengths. Montauk was fourth.

Favorites Get the Worst of It at St. Asaph WASHINGTON, July 3.—The racing at St. Asaph to-day was interesting. A big crowd was on hand and they was interesting. A big crowd was on ham and ency witnessed some exceptionally fine aport. Close Straggle on Track and Field Setween England's Mivat 'Varsities

LONDON, July 3.—The annual sports between the Oxford and Cambridge athletic teams on the grounds of the Queen's Club, West Ken-sington, were held to-day. This is the first time they have taken place during the summer menths and in the height of the London season. Hitherto they have been held during the Lenten term, but the extreme cold weather and frost which prevailed last winter and during the spring prevented the men from doing the requiite amount of training at the usual time. weather to-day was perfect, although there was slight wind which blew across the grounds and against the runners sufficiently to preclude

Although there were many ladies present they were not so numerous as usual, nor were the large stands more than half filled with spectators. The falling off in the attendance was clearly due to the late date of the meeting. which conflicted with other events of a sporting character, social engagements, and outlings. Competition began at 4:30 o'clock with the hundred-yard dash. The four contestants-Jordan and Mayne of Oxford and Williams and Wilding of Cambridge-got a capital start. Wilding of Cambridge—got a capital start.

Mayne got the lead and kept it until the last ten yards, when Jordan went to the front and won by nine isches. Wilding was third. Time, 10 3-5 seconds.

In the shot-putting contest, Watson of Cambridge won with a put of 37 feet 9 inches. In the high jump, Gardiner of Oxford cleared 5 feet 9 inches. It was apparent, however, that he could have jumped higher had he been required to do so. Lutbock of Cambridge was second.

Lutyens of Cambridge won the mile run easily in 4 minutes 23 2-5 seconds. Rathbone of Oxford at minutes 23 2-5 seconds. Rathbone of Oxford of Oxford of Oxford of Oxford in Seconds.

The 120-yard hurdle race was won by Oakley of Oxford in 16 4-5 seconds. Pilkington of Cambridge was second and Scott of Oxford third. Oakley finished a yard in front of Pilkington, who was only a foot ahead of Scott. This event furnished the best sport of the day. All four crossed the hurdles in a perfect line. It was only in the sprint home that Oakley drew out from the others.

Robertson of Oxford took premier place in throwing the 16-pound hammer. He covered 116 feet 7 inches. Mendelsohn of Cambridge won the long jump, covering 22 feet 5½ inches. Mendelsohn falled on the first two jumps. The Oxford partiams cheered enthusiastically, believing that Fry would secure the event, but Mendelsohn, on the last jump, instead of marking off the start cautiously as he had done before, started with a rush and jumped further than he had ever done in his trials. His victory was greeted with wild cheers by the adherents of Cambridge. Fry's best jump was 21 feet 7½ inches.

The three-mile run was captured by Horan of inches.

The three-mile run was captured by Horan of Cambridge. He won by 150 yards in 14 minutes 50 2-5 seconds. Horan was a hot favorite for this event. He went right away from his opponents after the first mile.

CAMBRIDGE MAY MEET YALE. exford Beelines to Join-No Credit to Win and a Disgrace to Lose,

LONDON, July 3 .- At the conclusion of to-day's games at West Kensington the Oxford and Cambridge joint committee met and decided that they would decline to accept Yale's challenge to meet the latter with a joint team. Cambridge, as the winner of to-day's contest, have the preference in the matter of meeting Yale singly. They have not yet decided whether they will do so or not, but it is extremely probable that they will.

Mr. Horan, President of the Cambridge Athletic Association, said, in reply to a question by the representative of the United Press: "Yes, I think it propable that we will meet the Yale team. We will decide shortly."

"Yes, I think it probable that we will meet the Yale team. We will decide shortly."

Mr. W. J.-Orkley, President of the Oxford Athletic Club, said, in an interview with a United Press reporter:

"There is not the slightest probability of Oxford Joining Cambridge in a contest against Yale. It would be a case of two against one, very unsportemanlike, and not worthy of the undertaking." Mr. Scott, aiso of Oxford, expressed similar sentiments, adding: "It would be no credit to England if the combined team should win, while it would be a decided disgrace to them if they should lose."

The representative of the United Press in this city learns that the refusal of the joint committee of the Oxford and Cambridge Athletic clubs to accept the challenge from Yale is due to the fact that they consider that, since Harvard declined to take part in the contest originally proposed, it would be unsportsmanlike for the English universities to compete with Yale singly. The committee endorsed the remarks made by President Oakley of the Oxford Athletic Club that such a contest would be a case of two to one and not worthy of the undertaking, and expressed the opinion that, as any other American combination is seemingly impossible, it now only remains for the Cambridge Athletic Club, as the winner of to-day's contest, to consider at once what it will do, and communicate its decision to the Yale Club at the earliest possible moment. This decision, it is thought, will be in favor of accepting Yale's challenge. The suggestion of Yale that Oct. dwill be a sciutable date for the contest, should it take place, is not likely to be accepted, as, were that date fixed upon, it would be impossible for the Cambridge men to return accepted, as, were that date liked upon, it would be impossible for the Cambridge men to return home in time to begin the university year. A date just before or just after that upon what the New York Athletic Club and the Londor Athletic Club will meet is considered here to be more suitable than the one proposed.

FAST CYCLING AT CLIFTON. L. C. Johnson Breaks a Track Record-Richardson's Great Trick Feat.

PATERSON, N. J., July 3.-The fourth annual two-days' race meet of the Tourist Cycle Club opened on the Clifton three-quarter mile track to-day with the largest individual entry list recorded this season. Fully 5,000 persons enjoyed the capital sport. The occasion was especially blessed by the scarcity of accidents, only one spill occurring during the entire programme. Charles V. Q. Walsh of Jersey City and Peter Clauss of Paterson fell in their heat of the class A handicap, Walsh receiving several painful, but not serious, head wounds. Fred Titus and L. O. Cabanne were hampered by the non-arrival of their wheels, and the former did not ride. Cabanne, however, borrowed a machine third place.

events, although it was a Johnson day all along the line, and the brothers "L. C." and "E. C. the line, and the brothers "L. C." and "E. C." of Cleveland scooped in diamonds like pennics. Frank Jenney had a word to say about the quarter-mile, running a dead heat with Ernis Johnson, and winning the subsequent toss. The Utica man also beat out the Johnsons at the very tape in the "B" mile, in which a flying start was tried, to no particular purpose. Lee Richardson, the Chicago trick rider, went for his own quarter-mile record of 57% seconds, wheel and rider going backwards, and brought the nark down to 49 1-5 amid enthusiastis applaise.

his own quarter-mile record of 3/29 seconds, wheel and river going barkwards, and brought the nark down to 491-5 amid enthisiastis appliaise.

L. C. Johnson, bent on pushing a goad day along started to, break E. L. D. Lauvelt's track record of 1:012-5 for the half mile, paced by Ernie Johnson and Earl Kiser on a tandem. His time was 50 seconds flat, a remarkable performance and dangerously near the world's record, 0:521-5, which was made on a regulation cycle track with triplet pace. H. P. Mosher, the new amateur phenomenon, and Ray Dawson. the Greek god from Boonton, did the eleverest work in the class A races, Dawson's win of the mile and a half handicap being the pretites thing of the day.
